SAFER OUSTED AT YOUNGSTOWN

Official Accused of Connivance With Bootleggers

GRAND JURY TO PROBE CASE

Action Follows Prosecutor's Raids—Ohio News Notes

YOUNGSTOWN.—(By Associated Press.)—Mayor Fred J. Warnock today suspended Deputy Director David Scott, against whom charges of connivance with bootleggers have been made by forces opposing Warnock for the Republican mayoralty nomination.

A special session of the grand jury, called for Monday, the purpose of which has not been divulged officially, is said to be connected with the case.

Following a series of raids on saloon keepers here in which Director Scott participated, Prosecutor H. E. Hull led another series of raids, making arrests at places which he said Scott had "overlooked."

DIES FROM BLOODCLOT

COLUMBUS.—Carmen Corres, Porto Rico, died in a hospital from a blood clot that formed after a successful operation had been performed to graft new skin on her nose which she lost as the result of a tropical skin disease.

POSTMASTER SWORN IN

DAYTON.—Dr. L. C. Weimer was sworn in as acting postmaster of Dayton, succeeding Forest L. May, removed from office by Postmaster General Hays.

CANDY SALES GROW

CEDAR POINT.—That candy sales are only slightly on the increase and that the price has gone down 48 per cent since the war was the declaration of V. L. Price of St. Louis, in an address before the Central Club, a tri-state candy manufacturers and jobbers' association.

DIES FROM INJURY

BUCYRUS.—Mrs. Eugenia Howard, 52, colored, assaulted by her brother, Tom Guinnino at Brokenword stone quarry near here July 11, died at a hospital.

JUMPS TO DEATH

NORTH BALTIMORE.—Wilmer Stephens, six, was instantly killed when he jumped from his father's truck into the path of a machine driven by John Knepper, Findlay. Witnesses say Knepper was not to blame.

DRUGGISTS ADJOURN

CEDAR POINT.—The Ohio State Pharmaceutical convention came to an end here with the selection of Cedar Point as the 1922 meeting place and with the election of H. M. Highfield, Zanesville, president.

BODY FOUND

NILES.—The body of Mollie Verbia, 14, was found in a thicket near here by passersby who found marks upon the body that indicated death was due to strangulation.

NOTE IS LEFT BY MISSING MAN

Ohio Cashier's Letter Says He Is "In Bad"

NEW MARSHFIELD, Ohio.—(By United Press.)—Search was being made today for William Sturgill, cashier of the New Marshfield bank, who mysteriously disappeared last Tuesday. No trace of the missing man has been found since he left New Marshfield, presumably for Chillicothe.

A letter found yesterday and written by the missing man before he disappeared mentioned that he was "in bad."

The letter addressed to his wife and dated July 19, read in part: "Hello, home. Leonard got all papers in back of our automobile. You and him look after the business company notes and checks I paid. Also keep the bonds until notes are all paid, all checks. Look after my part of garage business."

"Note $19,500."

"Bond $15,000."

"I hate to go but Boden and Ford have got me in bad."

The two men mentioned in the letter are connected with the Imperial Lumber company of Columbus.

STAG PICNIC TO BE STAGED BY Y. M. C. A.

Something new in the way of picnic, an all stag affair, has been planned by officials of the Y. M. C. A. for business men, the seniors and the men living in the dormitory at the Y. The event is scheduled for the evening of August 4, at the T. R. Hamilton farm.

The picnic party will start at 3 p. m. from the Y. M. C. A. building. Snapper will be cooked by the men at the farm. The trip is to be made in automobiles.

Athletic contests will be held in the early evening, while a camp fire session is to be held after supper. A committee is in charge of the event.

TWO DABS, SQUEEZES FILL INK WELL WITH EVIDENCE IN HOCH RAID

NEW YORK.—Sponges are aiding in the enforcement of prohibition in New York. Samuel Toshun, a city detective, says he always carries one when engaged in liquor raids. He told a magistrate today that it enabled him to salvage evidence when the illegal possessor of liquor spilled it.

As a result Joseph Preola, who, the detective says, dashed a bottle to the floor when the officer appeared in his apartment, was held for a hearing.

Two dabs and two squeezes filled a handy empty ink well with evidence.

Acute National Shortage of Housing Is Shown

IDLENESS COSTS HALF BILLION

Economic Situation Reported by Hoover Committee

$120,000,000 ACCIDENT LOSS

Acute National Shortage of Housing Is Shown

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press.)—Half a billion dollars a year in wages is being lost to the building industry thru unemployment, declared a report made public today by the committee on elimination of waste in industry of the American Engineering Council.

The committee, appointed by Herbert Hoover, when he was president of the council, asserted lack of work was the main factor in this industry, whose critical condition is attributed primarily to high costs of construction.

The report said that waste was causing losses in building work, including all trades and common labor, ranked second among industries and contributed more than three billion dollars yearly to the wealth of the nation.

COST OF ACCIDENTS

The annual economic loss due to accident was estimated as high as $120,000,000. Application of safety methods, it was stated, would save the industry twelve million dollars' work a year. Loss thru duplication of estimates and designs, and duplication in bidding, was said to run into millions.

An acute national shortage of housing exists, the report stated, because of prohibitive construction costs to householder and banker.

Many union rules were condemned as "absolutely wrong" and both employers and employees were blamed for restriction of output.

MEANS RECOMMENDED

The report deplored the irregularity of employment for building trades workers, declaring that they were busy only on an average of about 190 days in a year. It recommended the following means of reducing seasonal unemployment:

"Allowance of a small margin of profit for both labor and capital during winter months; development of methods of conducting the work in cold weather; organization of a clearing house for coordination of activities; increasing the usefulness of employment bureaus; and educating the public.

"Idleness, however, is not due entirely to seasonal demands; strikes and lockouts are appreciable causes" the report added.

The strike was declared to be one of the great economic wastes in building industry. Unions are not alone blamed for restricting output by the report, which said that "contractors and builders and supply dealers affect the situation to a great degree indirectly by maintenance of high prices, collusion in bidding, and unfair practices."

WOMEN TO ELECT

Clubs Convention At Cleveland Names Officers Today

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—Protective legislation for women in industry, election of officers, the report of the resolutions committee and plans for the coming year were the principal topics on the closing program of the third annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs here today.

Re-election of Mrs. Arnold Forest of Detroit, as president, and other officers of the present administration, was practically assured as they were the only nominees named by the nominating committee.

Chattanooga, Milwaukee and Wichita, Kansas, were in the field for the 1922 convention. Selection will be made by the board of directors, but Chattanooga was most generally favored by the delegates.

Portland, Oregon, invited the delegates to hold their 1923 convention in that city during Portland's Golden Jubilee anniversary convention.

BANKERS TO LIFT MYSTERY VEIL

Will Reveal Institutions' Secrets To Public Schools

LECTURE FOR EACH MONTH

Educational Plan Outlined At Minneapolis Meeting

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (By Associated Press.)—Plans of the American Bankers Association to dispel mystery about banking in the public schools by taking the bank to the public school, this fall, were outlined to the American Institute of Banking here today by John H. Puellcher of Milwaukee, Mr. Puellcher is chairman of the association's committee on public education.

By showing that they occupy a useful place in society, the bankers hope to cut the foundation from under a radicalism that thrives on ignorance of the services of the banking business, he said.

LECTURES PREPARED

"Ten lectures on banking have been carefully prepared, one for each month of the school year, starting with next September," Mr. Puellcher related. "The banker nearest the school is to deliver the lectures to the seventh and eighth grades of the common school, the high school and the college. He will simply refer to the outlines for ideas and background, localizing the story, using illustrations and incidents familiar to the children.

"He will show them specifically what banking is, telling them about its origin and its purpose in our commercial scheme. Then, after two or three visits, the banker will invite the school children to the bank and permit them to visualize that which has been talked about."

PLAN APPROVED

"The lecture outlines have been sent to the superintendents of public instruction of all of our states and to many others in the teaching profession. Scores of letters have been received from educators approving the plan and promising active cooperation."

"Many financial magazines have agreed to publish each month the lecture to be delivered the following month. Text book publishers are planning to include chapters on banks and banking in the treatises on economics. School boards have agreed to endorse the work."

"My first wife was pretty good," he said. "My second was just medium and the third no good at all."

He asserts he is thru with them all.

TROOPS MAY BACK SMALL'S DEFENSE

Serious Possibilities Seen In Illinois Fraud Case

UP TO CIRCUIT COURT TODAY

Immunity From Arrest And Trial Claimed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (By United Press.)—"The King can do no wrong" was the basis of the plea made by attorneys for Len Small, Governor of Illinois, in Sangamon circuit court today. Their argument was made in an effort to convince the court that the chief executive did not have to submit to arrest and trial on indictments charging embezzlement of millions of dollars of state money while serving as state treasurer.

Judge E. S. Smith, at the conclusion of the answer to the Governor's claim, by State's Attorney Mortimer, was expected to rule immediately on whether the Governor was above all power of the court or whether the executive must submit to the court decrees the same as any other person.

PROBABLE COURSE

In case the court upholds the Small contention, the governor cannot be brought to trial, until his term expires in 1924.

The Governor may continue his attitude of defiance and call on state troops to prevent the sheriff's deputies from serving the warrants.

The Governor's attorneys advised him he must not submit to arrest and trial as that would be subordinating the executive branch of the state government to the judicial. The governor has said he would follow the advice of his attorneys which means he will resist the court by force, if necessary.

COULD PARDON SELF

Legal advisers of the governor informed the court that the constitution forbids that he submit to arrest. To do so, they pointed out, would be a surrender of sovereignty of the executive branch of the government.

The attorneys declared it would be ridiculous to try the governor for a crime and convict him when he would have power to pardon himself.

According to the Governor's friends he is willing to have "a fair and impartial trial" but they declared he could not get it in Sangamon. The county officials are bitter political enemies of the Governor.

MYSTERY SHIP IS SEIZED AT PORT

British Schooner, Accused as Whiskey Runner, Held at Atlantic City—Carried 1,000 Cases of Liquor, Officers Charge—Must Explain Maneuvers

PHILADELPHIA.—(By Associated Press.)—The master of the small British schooner Pocomoke, which came into Atlantic City Wednesday in distress and without her cargo of 1,000 cases of intoxicating liquors, will have some explaining to do to the British authorities in this jurisdiction, according to Charles R. Kurtz, surveyor of the port.

"There is no question the Pocomoke is the mysterious vessel reported off the New Jersey coast," Mr. Kurtz said today. "All the vessel's papers were taken by Navigation Inspector Marsteller."

STORM ENCOUNTERED

Mr. Kurtz said the Pocomoke came into Atlantic City under distress signals. Captain J. A. Roy, according to Mr. Kurtz, said he left Nassau, Bahamas Islands, with 1,000 cases of liquor for Quebec.

Off the Delaware capes he said he encountered a storm which caused him to transfer part of the cargo to a schooner and to throw the remainder overboard because the vessel sprung a leak. According to Mr. Kurtz, Captain Roy said his crew was discharged and transferred to another vessel at sea, which is said to be a violation of maritime law.

"While we cannot do anything about what he did with his cargo outside the three mile limit, the British government can certainly make him give a more definite explanation of the action of the Pocomoke at sea," said Mr. Kurtz.

LIQUOR TEST CASE

CINCINNATI.—The court of appeals will be asked to determine the right of Mayor M. E. Scott of Milford, to try prohibition law cases involving residents of Cincinnati, Attorney George A. Hanna, who is preparing the appeal, said that in a test case he will represent C. A. Kappner, Cincinnati saloonist, who has been ordered to appear before the Milford mayor today.

A number of Cincinnati saloonkeepers were summoned by telephone late yesterday to appear before Mayor Scott at Milford to answer charges filed by inspectors for the state prohibition officers. These later arrests, in the opinion of saloon men, are the carrying out of the implied threats made by the prohibition commissioner, Don V. Parker recently, following the trials of men in Cincinnati, when he declared that no more Crabe Act cases would be tried in Cincinnati courts because "results are not satisfactory," but that all cases would be taken to Milford. "Larger fines would be imposed."

Hanna's petition, it was said, will be in the form of a "writ of prohibition," which, in effect, is an order from a higher court stopping a lower court from proceeding with the trial of a case.

Involved in the hearing will be also the question whether Mayor Scott can hear any case against a Hamilton-co resident, the town hall, where the mayor holds court in Clermont-co.

MRS. BOOSE TELLS STORY IN COURT

Bride of Little More Than Year Details Troubles

COLLAPSES UNDER ORDEAL

Roger Boose and Wife Principals in Court Action

Mrs. Frances Robinson Boose, 30, on the witness stand in common pleas court Friday, told of alleged indignities to which she was subjected, after having become a bride on June 24, 1920, and which caused her to seek redress in the courts from her husband, Roger E. Boose.

Frances Robinson was married to Roger E. Boose of Lima, in an elaborate society wedding at the home of her parents in Parkersburg, W. Va., on June 24, 1920. The Rev. Wilbur Burpee, assistant pastor of St. Xavier's Catholic church, Parkersburg, W. Va., officiated. They went to spend their honeymoon in Chicago. TROUBLE STARTED EARLY

"Our troubles first began while we were on our honeymoon in Chicago," Mrs. Boose told the court. She was placed on the witness stand shortly after court opened Friday morning. Her testimony was not finished and when court re-convened after the noon hour, Mrs. Boose was still telling the story of her married life.

"My husband complained of the expense connected with what I told me while we were in Chicago," Mrs. Boose testified. "Before we were married, he told to friends here of how he owned business and residence properties, had stocks and bonds and made $200 a month, in good months, $500 and sometimes as high as $1,000 from his insurance and real estate business, which he told me he had purchased from his father."

"But after our marriage, he continually complained of expense. He had written me before the wedding, asking that the event be postponed, because he said he could not get a house for us to live in. But I had been the guest of honor at numerous parties and I told him it would be embarrassing to me to postpone the event at that late date."

"He had first asked me to marry him six years before I did. I refused him. After our honeymoon in Chicago, we returned to Lima, and went to live with my husband's parents. I had no privacy, no place I could lie down and expect not to be disturbed."

"I began to feel ill and as Roger hated to see me lying around, I sat up much of the time when I could hardly hold up my head. But I was weary dressed for dinner and was ready to receive him when he came."

"Upon telling him that I believed a baby was to come to bless our home, he grew furious. 'I am not going to have my nose to the grindstone and raise a big family of children like certain Lima families. I now do,' Roger told me."

MARRIED "PRETTY FACE"

"When, in the course of conversation, he told me he married me because I had a pretty face and looked good and made a fine appearance and not for love. He told me he did not intend to face years of unpleasantness with me and that a separation contract must be agreed upon."

"When he would arrive home, he would scarcely speak to me, unless it would be to abuse me. I grew so ill I was forced to seek a physician. Upon my return from a visit to the parental home in Parkersburg, I was asked to go with Roger for dinner to the Elks' home. While there that night he refused to converse with me, even for manner's sake and asked me for a conference in his office afterward."

"The conference ended by Roger ordering me not to appear at his home on the next day. He said he would see his lawyer and demand a court injunction be secured to oust me from his home—the only place I could rest my head since in Lima."

"It was late in the evening, I had nowhere to go. I wandered about

GERMANY'S NAVY A HEAP OF JUNK

What remains of German U-boats surrendered to the French.

The inglorious end of the German navy is vividly pictured here. U-boats that once terrorized all who sailed the seas today lie harmless on the beach at Cherbourg, France—a heap of junk. England also has a pile of refuse, former German naval vessels, and since the recent airplane bombing tests, the U. S. also has its share of naval wreckage.

REFUND PLAN MAY BE CHANGED

Solons Consider Relieving Mellon Of The Job

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.)—A proposal that Congress take out of Secretary Mellon's hands the handling of Europe's $10,000,000, 000 debt to the United States may be made to the Senate finance committee if Mellon does not submit a plan which satisfies a majority of the committee, it was indicated today.

Some members of the finance committee are of the opinion that Congress ought to have a hand in framing the refunding arrangement.

While Mellon is familiarizing himself fully with the present status of the obligations, members of the finance committee are engaged in studying all data on the subject.

The proposal to curtail Mellon has already been made, in effect, in a resolution introduced recently by Representative Tinkham, Mass. It would create a committee of nine, including the secretary of the treasury, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and finance committees; chairman of the House Ways and means committee and foreign affairs committee and four "lay members" experts in finance to study the foreign debt situation and map out plans and policies to be pursued by the United States in settling it.

This proposal, with some modifications may be accepted by finance committee members who think the problem too staggering for one man to handle.

Mrs. Helen Smith Gibbs, St. Augustine, Fla., is the widow of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Smith, Lakewood, N.Y.

In her petition Mrs. Boose charged that her husband drove her from the home of his parents, after making false representations to her about his earning ability.

Boose declares his wife left of her own accord and says he is willing to support her.

While the mother was telling of the troubles which have made her life unpleasant, the young son of the Booses slept in his baby blanket not far from the witness chair. On one occasion Mrs. Boose stopped her testimony long enough to inquire about the baby, when a friend removed the little one, after it had begun crying.

Separation of the Booses occurred on September 11, after their marriage in Lima, previous, in 1920. In all her testimony, Mrs. Boose declared members of the Boose family, except Roger, treated her lovingly. "My mother always taught me to never to say anything about my husband and I am so sorry to tell all these things of Roger," she said in closing.

Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Tussing, Romapets, left Thursday for Boston where they will be located during the remainder of the summer. While in that city, Dr. Tussing will make a study of the diseases of children.

INDIAN TRIBES IN STATE PAGEANT

Western Customs To Play Part in Missouri Centennial

HARDING MAY ATTEND

Scenes Of History To Be Presented In Arena

SEDALIA, Mo.—(By Associated Press)—Indian tribes from Oklahoma, wearing the picturesque costumes that the aborigines wore before oil was discovered on Indian lands, will take part in Missouri's centennial celebration of statehood, which will be held here August 2 to August 22. Two young buffaloes, presented to the state centennial commission, will also take part in the celebration. The Indians and the buffaloes will participate in the "Pageant of Missouri," in which outstanding events in the states history will be colorfully depicted.

HUGE ARENA

The pageant will be presented in an arena 600 feet by 150 and will employ a cast of more than 5,000 persons. It will trace Missouri's history, from the time the state was a primeval wilderness down to the present era. Crowning a flight of 50 wide steps will be a row of columns, and a "throne" upon which the "Queen of Missouri" will be seated as part of the pageant.

It is planned to have on exhibition the first railroad locomotive operated in the state and a replica of the steamboat "Zebulon B. Pike," said to have been the first steamboat to dock at St. Louis.

TEXT HOTEL

National guard troops will patrol the state fair grounds where the celebration is to be held. A "tent hotel" to accommodate 15,000 visitors is planned and Sandella homes will be thrown open. Matrons will be on duty at the railroad stations day and night to aid women visitors.

The opening day of the celebration, August 8, has been designated as "press day," when newspaper men are especially invited to be present. August 9 is to be "homecoming day," for former Missourians.

August 10 will be the president's day, when President Harding has been invited to be present. August 11 and 12 are Kansas City and St. Louis days respectively.

President Harding will press a button at his desk in Washington August 6 which will swing open the gates of the fair grounds.

REGISTRATION OF CHARTER VOTERS IS EASY TASK FOR CLERKS

Registration for the primary election August 9 was a quiet affair in Lima Friday. Clerks and registrars in the 58 precincts in the city had an easy day of it.

They began their labors at the polling places at 8 a. m. and worked on thru until 2 p. m., when they shut up shop for lunch. Registration was resumed at 4 p. m. and will close at 9 p. m.

Little trouble in counting up the total registrations is anticipated by J. M. Madigan, chairman of the election board. Most everyone in Lima registered for the presidential election last November with the exception of those who changed their place of residence, or came to Lima from some other Ohio City, no one needs to register.

PRODIGAL BELIEVES IN SIGNS.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Twenty years ago I. H. Kopf left St. Louis, packing his father that he would not return until he could place an electric advertising sign over his own place of business.

Now he is coming back—a victor in the business world. He now operates a factory, making women's coats and dresses in New York City. He is coming back here to open a showroom for his line of goods. And an electric sign will hang over the street in front of his showroom.

SUFS PULLMAN CO. FOR COLD.

WORCESTER, Mass.—The Pullman Company of Boston is defendant in an unusual $5,000 suit, filed in the Superior Court by Nathan Jasep of Worcester, who claims that because of a defect in a Pullman car in which he was a passenger December 7, 1920, he suffered a severe cold, which later developed into bronchitis.

An alleged opening at the side of his berth is the defect claimed.

GUARD JAIL FROM BURGLARS.

TEXARKANA, Ark.—Deputy Sheriff Sain thrice chased would-be burglars away from the jail here after they had attempted to cut through the bars and gain entrance.

"When men try to break into a jail," observed the Deputy Sheriff as he went to investigate, "there must be the reason was a gallon of bonded whiskey."

VISITORS FROM SIDNEY.

Judge J. D. Barnes and Mrs. Barnes, Sidney, and their guest, the Rev. Howard Baisdel, curate of an Episcopal church in New York City, were in Lima Friday, Mrs. Barnes and their guests accompanying the judge here. While in the city they called upon the Rev. Kirk B. O'Farrell, rector of Christ church, Episcopalian.

SOLITARY CELLS FOR 8 MEN

Ohio Murderers Spend Time in Confinement

ONE KILLED AGED WOMAN

Others Convicted Of Brutal Shooting Affairs

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—If conscience and retrospection aid regeneration, eight men of the Ohio penitentiary's population in the next few years ought to be better men than when they entered behind the gray walls.

These eight, for a stated period each year, spend so many hours of days in solitary confinement, most of them on the anniversaries of the crimes for which they were convicted. They enter dingy cells, with the only light filtering thru a two-foot square opening; they receive no exercise, during their solitary confinement, and sleep on a rough slab of wood, which also is used as a seat.

KILL YOUNG WIDOW

Tomorrow, for the four succeeding days Fred Roell and Herbert Fletcher, Franklin-co prisoners, will observe in solitary the anniversary of a tragedy in which Mrs. Betty A. McCarrick, young widow, was shot dead, and John McDowell, wounded so badly that he will carry a useless arm for the rest of his life.

The two youths were said to have fired the shots, after an attempted holdup.

The first man to be sentenced by the trial judge for stated periods of solitary, was Alexander Kish, Seneca-co convict, who was received Feb. 16, 1915, to serve a life sentence, after having been found guilty of first degree murder charges, with recommendation of mercy.

Kish's sentence included "the fifth day of each month, and the four previous days shall be spent by the prisoner in solitary confinement in a darkened cell." This later, on the recommendation of Warden P. E. Thomas, was changed to solitary the first day of each month.

MURDER WOMAN

Kish brutally murdered an aged woman at Bellevue, and rifled her home, disposing of most of the goods in the town limits.

The most notorious of the eight men who regularly go into the "C. C.'s," or corrective cells, as they are known, is George Loestner, Cleveland gangster. He spends each Christmas Day in solitary. On Christmas Day, 1920, Patrolman Patrick Gaffney of East Cleveland, died from wounds inflicted by Loestner.

DOG PAYS VISIT TO VETERANS

"Stubby," Mascot of 26th Division, Calls on Comrades

HAS WON MANY MEDALS

Was Wounded By Shrapnel at Front

(By HARRY L. ROGERS)

WASHINGTON — International News Service) — A veteran of the World War came to the State, War and Navy Building today to pay a visit to his former comrades, of Seichurey and Chateau Thierry. He wore the insignia of a private of the One Hundred and Second Infantry, but he was greeted enthusiastically by officers and enlisted men alike. From field generals to field clerks, they affectionately called him "Stubby," the name by which he was known throughout the Twenty-sixth Division. Except for six weeks which he spent in the hospital as the result of a shrapnel wound in the breast and a few odd days here and there when he was "A. W. O. L.," "Stubby" was with the famous New England Division during its entire sojourn in France.

He wears three service stripes and a wound stripe, and one seldom sees a more impressive set of decorations than his. Odd as it may seem, however, "Stubby" does not wear either his wound or service chevrons on his sleeve, for despite his A. E. F. serial number, "Stubby" is not an ex-doughboy, but a handsome Boston bull terrier.

While the One Hundred and Second Infantry was encamped at Vale Field, New Haven, Conn., in 1917, a valuable-looking Boston bull wandered into camp and attached himself "for rations" to Corporal J. Robert Conroy. The dog, upon whom the name of "Stubby" was promptly bestowed, probably because of his diminutive tail, proved himself an affectionate friend and a valiant enemy, and he soon became a warm favorite with the regiment.

When the Twenty-sixth Division was ordered overseas a conspiracy was formed among the officers and men of the One Hundred and Second Infantry, and, after apparently insurmountable obstacles had been removed, the mascot was smuggled on board the Minnesota. Arrived in France, the fame and popularity of "Stubby" grew, and when the division went to the front there was scarcely a man in it who did not know the little brindle mascot and love him. "Stubby" didn't like the big guns. With ears more sensitive than those of men, he appeared to suffer actual physical pain during a bombardment. Nevertheless, he went along, sharing pot-luck with the boys and sleeping in a dug-out with his master, Corporal Conroy. At Seichurey he got a piece of shrapnel in the breast, and for days there was deep gloom in the outfit lest "Stubby" should not get well.

The mascot was evacuated, like any human "blowee," and was treated in a hospital by Army surgeons. Fortunately, the wound proved less serious than had at first been supposed, and in six weeks "Stubby" was back with his "outfit."

When "Stubby" arrived in France he wore a simple leather strap about his neck and two aluminum discs bearing his name and serial number. Among soldiers, with whom the wearing of these identification discs was compulsory, they were known as "dog tags."

A handsome fellow, "Stubby" was extremely popular with the ladies, and one admiring French girl made him a blanket of chamomile skin, in the center of which she worked a beautiful design of the flags of the Allies, embroidered in colors. Other feminine admirers along the route added bits here and there in the way of decoration until "Stubby's" blanket became a gorgeous thing.

The blanket, which "Stubby" still wears, also provided a convenient place for hanging his medals, of which he has been awarded a great number. First, there is his Victory Medal, with all the engagements in which "Stubby" participated—Alsace-Marne, Champagne-Marne, Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, and the Defense Sector. Then there is his silver Victory Button, to which his wound entitled him; his American Legion Medal, for he is a member of the Legion and was an honored guest at their first convention in Minneapolis as another medal testifies.

"Stubby" is a life member of the Y. M. C. A. and wears a badge of membership, which announces that he is entitled to "Three bones a day and a place to sleep" for the rest of his life. He is a member of the Red Cross. Another medal, awarded him by the City of New Haven, was pinned on him by the Mayor, who wished to keep him as a war trophy.

But perhaps the proudest moment of "Stubby's" life was when he won the silver medal at the Boston Dog show in February, 1920. At this competition the bluest of the blue-bloods of the canine species gave way to "Stubby," and the judges awarded first prize to the hero-dog "Stubby." As an instance of the affection in which "Stubby" was held by the men of the Twenty-sixth Division, it is related that the mascot either went A. W. O. L. or got lost just before St. Mihiel. For six weeks he was missing, and the division mourned him as lost. One day, however, as the One Hundred and First Infantry was relieving a French division, a doughboy saw a French soldier leading a Boston bull down the road on a leash. Recognizing the division mascot, the doughboy demanded the dog, and when the poilu refused to surrender him threatened compulsory measures and brought the Frenchman to time.

BANKER DEMANDS LESS RED TAPE

Attacks Bureaucracy Before Minneapolis Convention

AGAINST TOO MANY TITLES

Warns Future Executives Against Overdone Statistics

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — (By Associated Press) — Super-system, titles that cause heart-burn and overdone statistics were gently castigated here today by D. C. White, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, O. In a practical business talk to future bank executives. The occasion was the annual convention of the American Institute of Banking.

"Going thru the motions of doing business without really getting down to business" was the theme the Cleveland banker expounded. He summed it up in the title of his address, "Knowledge vs. Wisdom," and here are some of the bits of business wisdom he gave the young bankers:

OPPOSES BIG SYSTEM

"Full credit must be given to organization and machinery," since order is heaven's first law. "What I want to get across is a kick against the pyramiding of system that finally leads to bureaucracy. I do not think it is the duty of the public to conduct a continuous audit of a concern with which it trades."

"Frequently in a bank organization the question of titles receives more consideration than it deserves, principally because super-system has created so many wheels within wheels and so many cogs in the wheels that the ordinary vocabulary of bank titles doesn't suffice. Frequently titles cause a lot of heart-burning in an organization simply because of vanity and false pride."

"My observation and judgment convince me that one can function under any title and that we will do well if we pay less attention to titles, lest in our zeal to create and exalt titles we put the emphasis where it does not belong. It is not a question of what your position is. The question is: What are you, yourself, doing in it and with it?"

OVERDONE STATISTICS

"As to statistics, accurate data intelligently arranged is so far ahead of hunches, guess work, general results, and rule of thumb, that it is as electricity to candle light. Nevertheless, its use can be overdone and is being overdone. Charts and barometers are fine, but there are two subjects that cannot be charted; they are Almighty God and human nature, and both cut quite a figure. Also it should be remarked that it is a person of rare qualifications that can analyze and make proper deductions from statistics.

"It is my judgment that a lot of us are getting our trousers shiny sitting at our desks poring over statistics, department reports, etc., who could spend our time to better advantage learning the people in our organizations and getting a more intimate knowledge of the viewpoint of those with whom we do business."

CANCER TAKES BIG DEATH TOLL

42,000 Die From Disease In England and Wales

LONDON — (By International News Service) — Cancer has become the scourge of this generation. The whole nation has been brought abruptly to a realization of this grave fact by the startling figures published by the Ministry of Health here recently.

These figures show that, while other less mysterious maladies are being fought and held, cancer has during the last forty years increased in incidence by 300 per cent. A mortality of 42,000 is officially attributed to the disease in 1919 for England and Wales alone. That is, practically one in every eleven deaths was due to this terrible disorder.

The urgency of the peril will be at once realized from the comparative mortality figures in the latest return of the Registrar-General. Organic disease of the heart 51,530. Tuberculosis 45,543. Bronchitis 44,801. Influenza 42,144. Cancer 42,144. Apoplexy 23,983. Pneumonia 19,966.

The ratio of deaths due to cancer may probably be increased to one in every seven in the case of persons more than fifty. This period of life—from fifty years onwards—is the cancer zone, when, as doctors know, the frequency of the disease is most to be dreaded.

In the United States and Canada intense interest has been aroused recently by the discoveries of Dr. Edward Robinson, of New York, and Dr. Glover, of Toronto.

CAUSE OF DISEASE

Cancer, in the opinion of Dr. Robinson, is produced by too much salt (calcium chloride) in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating the excess of salt from the tissues of the body by the administration of potassium nitrate in proper medicinal doses. He cites cases of unoperated cancer treated by this method, all of which he declares are decidedly improved and several seem to be cured.

Dr. Glover, a young Canadian, started all America by his claims last Summer. His laboratory in Toronto became the mecca of all the cancer-ridden of the whole continent. His remedy was a serum in a refined and concentrated form, prepared by a precipitation of the soluble globulin from the sera of immunized horses.

After a careful investigation, however, the Canadian Academy of Medicine reported unfavorably on it as a cure.

Whether or not the efforts of these two men will contribute to the world's knowledge of the disease it is hard to state, but at least they have cleared the scum that rests from failure and attempted to advance on the road to discovery.

MYSTERY OF FAMOUS OLD SERPENT TOMB IN CENTER OF SAVANNAH IS CLEARED

SAVANNAH, Ga.—The mystery of "The Serpent Tomb" in Colonial Cemetery has been solved. In this old burying ground, in the center of the downtown district of Savannah, for many years visitors have viewed with interest an unmarked obelisk, upon each side of which a serpent entwined to form a circle was the only inscription. Visitors have been entertained by strange stories of its history. One of the favorite tales was that it was erected to the memory of a young man who lost his life in a duel and whose last request was that his name should not be inscribed upon his tomb. Other stories had it that the stone marked the grave of Burton Gwinnett, one of the signers from Georgia of the Declaration of Independence.

Now the tomb bears the inscription: "Archibald Bulloch, First President of Georgia, 1778-1777. Born in South Carolina, 1730. Died in Savannah, 1777. Patriot, Soldier, Statesman."

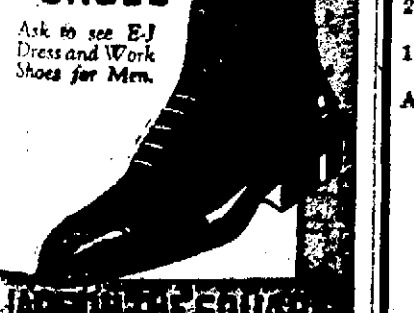

And beneath are these words, from White's Statistics: "Georgians, for the memory of Archibald Bulloch live in your breasts. Tell your children of him and let others tell another generation."

The inscription has just been put on the famous old tomb by Archibald Bulloch's great-granddaughter, Miss Emma Bulloch, of Washington, who declares there has never been any mystery about the old tomb; that she has always been desirous of marking the tomb of her famous ancestor, who was the great-grandfather of Mittie Bulloch, the mother of Theodore Roosevelt.

YOUR LITTLE GIRL says, "I want shoes that look like this!" This pair has the look, and lots of comfort and wear, too. The leather is rich, mahogany color, and doesn't scuff up. Soles full of "give," and sensible heels—she can play all day in these without tiring her feet. Prices from $2.50 to $3.50 according to size. At Your Shoe Dealers.

RUSSIA ASKS AID IN FOOD CRISIS

Millions Reported Facing Starvation in Southwest

PARIS—(By Associated Press)—An appeal addressed to all nations in the world asking that they organize to provide immediate aid for "millions of Russians now suffering from famine in the region of the Volga river and territory to the southwest," was issued last night by the executive committee of the Russian constituent assembly.

The appeal says that within this reaching the committee say that that of France and Germany combined, millions of Russians are facing starvation, while their government is totally unable to render assistance of any kind.

Latest reports from this region reaching the committee say that epidemic diseases are rapidly getting beyond control, and that if relief is not immediately provided another serious European menace is imminent.

Dr. Glover, a young Canadian, started all America by his claims last Summer. His laboratory in Toronto became the mecca of all the cancer-ridden of the whole continent. His remedy was a serum in a refined and concentrated form, prepared by a precipitation of the soluble globulin from the sera of immunized horses.

After a careful investigation, however, the Canadian Academy of Medicine reported unfavorably on it as a cure.

Whether or not the efforts of these two men will contribute to the world's knowledge of the disease it is hard to state, but at least they have cleared the scum that rests from failure and attempted to advance on the road to discovery.

COURT TO DECIDE GIRL'S HOME

Mother Wants Daughter To Live
With Her

STAGE BEAUTY REFUSES

Legal Verdict Will Clear Family
Row

NEW YORK. (By International News Service).—Has a young woman of eighteen, whose beauty, talent and hard work have brought success upon the stage, the right to order her own life as she chooses?

Or must she live as her mother decides when, as she works, she has been her mother's chief means of support for seven years?

This question right now is the most important of a question to charging Miss Ethel Haller, 14 of the Ziegfeld "Polka" and also to her mother, Mrs. Annie Haller, of the city.

A legal answer will be given to the question by Judge Kellerman in the New York City Court at an early date. The judge is expected to order the mother to pay for the daughter's support, to be the mother, charging the daughter with disorderly conduct. It directed Miss Haller to appear in court.

The "disorderly conduct" charge was explained in court by a representative of Harry L. Harkness, counsel for Mrs. Haller.

Among other things, he explained that the mother, who was with him in court, considered that the daughter smokes too many cigarettes, associates with the wrong sort of persons, and should not be living in an apartment house at No. 7 Fifth avenue.

WANTS TO LIVE OWN LIFE.
Arthur T. Egan, who, with his wife and mother, is proprietor of No. 7, was mentioned by the mother's lawyer. Said Mrs. Haller, who is tall and blind of eye, and who wears her wavy blond hair bobbed to a representative of the New York American:

"I will be in court all right. My father, who lives in Washington, where he is a detective in the Police Department, Mr. and Mrs. Egan and many friends, among whom, hope, will be Mr. Ziegfeld himself, will be there, too, to help me."

"My father believes as I do—that as long as I am not doing wrong, I have the right to live my own life as I see fit. Any number of friends, I am sure, will be glad to testify as to my character. There cannot possibly be the slightest criticism against No. 7 Fifth avenue."

COULDN'T LIVE AT HOME.
"I expect to show that when I tried to live at home my mother told me to leave and not to come back."

"Since this is the United States, I believe that European ideas of maternal authority should not prevail."

"When she asked me to leave the apartment uptown, in which I had paid for the furniture and for which I had paid the rent, I nearly cried with my eyes out. I love my mother."

"When I heard that she was planning to bring this action to drag me and our troubles into court—I couldn't help crying. It made me feel terrible. Now it is up to the court."

"I don't know what the matter with my mother. I cannot understand her. I love her with all my heart. She made it impossible for me to have my friends at my home. She would be cordial to them one day and would be extremely cool to them the next. Sometimes she was so good to me—so anxious to do things for me when I came home tired. Other times she treated me worse than the worst kind of a girl should be treated."

THEIR FINAL CLASH.
"Three or four days ago I came here to see Mr. and Mrs. Egan, good friends of mine. The next night my brother, Ray, came and got one of Mr. Egan's automobiles to take mother for a ride. Then, when I began stalling about my friends, I asked her to please not say such unjust things and then asked her if she would let me stay with her. She told me she didn't, to get out of the house and stay out. She told me she washed her hands of me forever."

"This almost killed me."

Mrs. Haller, as she informed Mr. Harkness, only had the best interests of her daughter at heart when she swore to the summons. She felt that her daughter was staying out too late, was seeing too much of the bright lights and was associating with persons of whom she, as a mother, disapproved. A doctor's name was mentioned by the mother, as one friend of our daughter to whom she objected. This doctor is a young Spaniard. The mother said to the daughter:

"Aren't there enough good Americans?"

Mrs. Haller also asserted that these friends were not having the best influence on her daughter's habits. They kept her up too late, she mother said, and encouraged her to drink the beverages which made Mr. Volstead famous. She objected to her daughter living at No. 7 Fifth avenue. Her version is that her daughter would not obey her in matters that seriously affected the daughter's welfare.

Hence, she considered the summons the only way of solving the problem and "saving" her daughter.

Miss Haller had made the service of the summons extremely easy. When she heard it had been issued she motored to Mr. Harkness's office with Mr. Egan's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Egan. She had wept bitterly when she was told of the action. She wept again in Mr. Harkness's office. Said she:

"I always have taken care of my mother. During the seven years I have been on the stage, it has been my duty to do so. I have been on the stage, it has been my duty to do so. I have been on the stage, it has been my duty to do so."

GAVE MONEY TO MOTHER.
"My father always has wanted me to live with him in Washington and go to school. But I have stuck to the stage and have given my money to my mother while in New York and have sent it to her when I was on the road."

"George's Aubrey or Roy Mack, who were with me in the 'School Days' act, when I was twelve years old, could tell me how I sent half of my salary, which was only $20 a week, to my mother."

"Mr. Mack was the manager of the act. Ethel, in Marcellus, My mother sent him a telegram when we were in Evansville, Indiana, telling him she was going to ask the police to send me home."

"I have done nothing in my life except work hard on the stage. It is that, I believe, that I have been successful. I have done nothing but work hard."

"Last year I went to live with my mother and she put me in a home. But after they investigated me they did nothing."

Ethel Haller and her sister, Edith, were known as the "Angel Twins" during the time they appeared together on the New Amsterdam road. Edith now is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Waddell, who live in Louisville. A son, J. A. Morris, and four daughters, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. A. E. Stevenson, Toledo, Mrs. A. E. Stoun, Lima and Mrs. Irvin Ridgeway, Edith, survive.

Twenty-two grand-children and six great-grand-children are left. Mrs. Morris resided nearly all her life in Edith. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church, Edith. The Rev. Mr. Boroff will officiate. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery, near 11th St.

ACCUSED MURDERER SENT TO INSANE ASYLUM.
COVINGTON, Ky.—Charles Davis, 56, Covington, charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Thaddeus K. Grant, Cincinnati druggist, at the former's home, July 9, today was committed to an insane asylum, following a hearing in Kenton circuit court. Judge Tracy emphasized the fact that Davis was tried to determine his mental condition at this time, and not at the time of the tragedy.

"If he is restored to his mental faculties," the order read, "he is to be returned to this court for trial for the offense with which he is charged."

Grant died from blows delivered on his head with a flat iron in the hands of Davis.

BODIES ARRIVE.
COLUMBUS.—Bodies of 151 Ohio soldiers who met death overseas during the war were received here today with full military honors by the local American Legion posts. Poppies were placed on each casket. Bodies of the Ohio veterans will be returned to their homes from here.

LOSS OF BILLION FACED BY U. S.

Claims Against Government May Amount To Huge Sum.

By W. H. ATKINS

WASHINGTON. (International News Service).—The best legal brains are now pitted against an undetermined corps of Government claimants in a court battle to decide whether Uncle Sam's already crumpled pocketbook will be "bunk" for another $1,000,000,000.

That sum is tied up in claims against the Government by a result of the war. Some of these claims are, by all odds, the most exaggerated of the legal persuasion.

This is the situation confronted by Attorney General Clegg, who realizes the enormity of the task.

As the Attorney General waded into this job with the best staff of lawyers he saw the project of many millions more lost to the Treasury. Then the government of war veterans, most of them of the "patriotic" type, unless Congress realize that it will be a real economy measure to provide more funds for the Treasury's defense.

What he now seeks from Congress, he said, is sufficient money for legal and investigative talent that will put the Department of Justice in a position sufficiently strong to combat the vast array of legal minds retained at stupendous fees to make this drive on the Treasury.

"If we spend a couple of hundred thousand dollars to save the Treasury a billion that it would otherwise lose, I call it good business economy," said Clegg.

Daughterly things that many of the claimants for reimbursement for alleged losses under war contracts are plain, unvarnished tales of a type that fed themselves fat on the Treasury in other days, and now are trying to get away with it still more plundering. If Congress will help him, he says, he will stop this form of "grab" and Treasury plundering.

DEATH SUMMONS COMES TO MRS. JOHN THOMAS.
AFTER 4-YEAR ILLNESS

Mrs. Kate E. Thomas, wife of John Thomas, 417 N. Metcalf-st., manufacturer of awnings, died at her home, Friday morning at four o'clock, after an illness of four years. Death was due to general debility.

Mrs. Thomas was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brengle, and was born in Allen Co. She is a descendant of one of Lima's oldest families. Mrs. Thomas was an active member of Market-st. Presbyterian church.

Surviving besides the husband are two children, a son Fred R. Thomas, New London, Conn., and a daughter, Mrs. C. J. Welch, Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at four p. m. at the residence. The Rev. Samuel Ruecker, pastor of Market-st. Presbyterian church, will officiate. Interment will be in Woodlawn.

BOY CHOKES TO DEATH ON PIECE OF APPLE.
CANTON.—Charles E. Erickson, 5, son of Joseph Erickson, choked to death on a piece of apple while under the influence of an anesthetic at a hospital here today. The child had received a lacerated eye at the hands of a playmate who was armed with a button hook, and while his injury was being given medical attention, he belched up a piece of apple and sucked it into his windpipe. He struggled to death before the obstruction could be removed from his throat.

MAJOR HUME, LIMA MAN, TO REVIEW OHIO TROOPS

Troop E of Lima, will be among the units of the Ohio National Guard in Camp Perry, which will participate Saturday in a grand review, before General Road, U. S. A., commander of the Fifth Corps area.

The review will be held in the afternoon and will be witnessed by military authorities from army posts in all parts of the mid-west. Major Frank Hume, of Lima, will be one of the Ohio guard officers in the reviewing stand.

Saturday morning, Troop E will take part in a cavalry show with the remainder of the regiment. Troop E carried off first honors at Camp Perry a year ago, and stands a good chance to repeat this year.

OHIO'S SHOPPING SAYS IT'S ADDED NOW SCIENTIFIC YEARS TO LIFE

New Purchasing Method is Big Improvement

Jan. Smith Is Just Full Of New Strength

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.)—Ohio's new method of purchasing its supplies, now functioning under the reorganization plan, is a radical departure from the old way of a single purchasing agent. The state now does its "shopping" with as much scientific care as the biggest private corporations.

Edward Shattuck, purchasing agent, has four branches of his department, each presided over by an expert. The procedure in purchasing anything is this:

If the managing officer of any state institution, or the head of any department feels that some supplies are needed, he makes a requisition to the director of the department. The director carefully investigates, and, if he thinks the request justified, certifies it on to the budget commission. That department notes as to the money in the reserve fund, out of which the purchase is to be made.

The order then is sent to Director of Finance Floyd E. Waite. If he finds out the article is not badly needed at once, he holds up the requisition.

If, however, Waite thinks the purchase should be made, he sends the order to Shattuck, who passes it along to one of his four assistants, to do the actual buying.

When a large purchase is made, Shattuck will send a special deputy or field officer to the shipping point to see that everything is o. k.

The plan was worked out by Director Waite, and Shattuck, and is entirely new for Ohio.

"I eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better since taking Tanlac than I have in years," said James M. Smith, well-known machinist living at 526 Prospect-ave, Scranton, Penna., recently.

"At the time I got hold of Tanlac I was run-down all over, felt half-sick and worn out and had reached the point where I took all the nerve and will-power I had to stay on the job. Nothing tasted right and at night I would carry my dinner pail back home without having eaten anything scarcely. My arms and legs were stiff and aches and I had a heavy, sluggish feeling all over my body. My night's rest was broken up and of mornings I got up feeling worse than I did when I went to bed. In fact, I was simply 'all in' and felt unfit for anything."

"Well, I know now from my own experience what Tanlac will do. I had heard a lot about it and I can say that it has certainly lived up to everything I expected and more, too. I feel like a new man and believe that years have been added to my life. Sleep, why, I sleep fine and get up of mornings and ready for a good day's work. Tanlac is the one medicine I will speak up for every chance I get."

"Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere." Adv.

CONFIDENCE

—the establishment in the minds of the automobile owners in Lima and vicinity of the one big fact—"Siferd-Hossellman Service Satisfies." We believe we have justly established that confidence, due to unequalled service, high quality workmanship and merchandise, and LOW PRICES.

We do not "hold sales." Every day is a sale day here, because all our prices are continuously kept at a small profit margin. You may always be certain of the lowest possible price at Siferd-Hossellman's. That's why most motorists buy ALL their tire, battery and accessory needs here. They have learned that confidence in our prices pays.

COLDEST LAKE IS HEATED UP

Water Now Warm Enough For Swimming In Superior

FIRST EXTENSIVE BATHING

Change Attributed To Mild Winter and Hot Weather

Superior, Minn., July 22.—A record for the first time in 10 years was set today when the water of Lake Superior in the vicinity of the Hotel de Ville, Superior, was found to be warm enough for the first time in 10 years.

Known as the "Cold Lake," the water of Lake Superior has been found to be warm enough for the first time in 10 years.

The reason for the extension in temperature of the lake is attributed by local authorities to the unusually mild winter of 1921 and the resulting early start of the summer season.

They explained that ordinarily the lake is found about in the middle of the spring and summer months, but this year it is found to be warm enough for the first time in 10 years.

In the two ports, the first bathing beach is being opened, and the lake is found to be warm enough for the first time in 10 years.

The lake is the most attractive for bathing and swimming here, when the water is found to be warm enough for the first time in 10 years.

Due to repairs on the main line natural gas will be turned off at 8 A. M. Sunday July 23rd, and will remain off until repairs are made. THE LIMA NATURAL GAS CO.

6 LIVES PERILED IN ROAD CRASH

Auto Hits Shredder and is Totally Demolished

SHORT OATS CROP IS SEEN

Poultry Culling Demonstrations
—Delphos News

DELPHOS — (Special) — Escape from death by six people that was little short of miraculous occurred late Wednesday evening when a machine driven by Martin Richey, Ridge-p, crashed into a shredder and was almost completely demolished.

Richey was on his way from Van Wert to this city. When he reached the county infirmary, Lawrence Galloway, a farmer, drove onto the road with the shredder and the machine crashed into it while traveling at a high rate of speed. The shredder was reduced to such condition that it cannot be repaired, and the auto was brought to town on a farm wagon.

All the inmates of the car were bruised and cut, several seriously, but all will recover. The machine turned over twice and all that saved the inmates from death was that they were thrown clear of the machine when their car struck the shredder.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Delphos Tri-County Fair Association was held at the Community Club room here Wednesday evening at which reports of the different committees were made.

The following heads for the various departments of the exhibits were announced by Art O. Wulfforst, in charge, as follows: E. B. Mauk and J. H. Hendrickson, culinary; J. W. Parns, Rushmore, and Joseph Gerdmann, Delphos, horse department; A. H. Kortier, Ft. Jennings, and John Steenut, Wetzel, hog department; A. Simms, Rushmore, cattle and sheep; Al Wulfforst, poultry department; Robert J. Porter, department of the Tri-County Beekeepers Association.

All the oats in the vicinity of this city have now been cut, and the first threshing occurred Thursday on the August Keverman farm. The yield is reported at 20 bushels to the acre, with about 50 bushels to the acre average yield. This is less than 50 per cent normal crop. The 1920 yield was exceptionally good, running from 60 to 75 bushels to the acre.

Poultry culling demonstrations are scheduled to be held in Washington during the week of July 25 and in Pleasant and Harrison during the next two weeks. There will be 40 demonstrations in the county, including territory in all townships. Announcement of investigations by the county agent show 28,000 fowls in Van Wert-co, 30 per cent of which he claims should be culled.

Two changes were made in the Pennsylvania force here when John Lisk assumed his duties as head of the office, filling the vacancy made by the resignation of C. G. Heist. Dave Thornell has been transferred to this city from the Van Wert office, taking Lisk's place.

Leon H. Doty, Pittsburgh, agent for the Delaware and Hudson R. R.; W. F. Patterson, Cleveland, manager of the D. L. & W.; and J. O. Shine, traffic manager for the La Salle extension University, Chicago, arrived in this city Thursday and are investigating shipping conditions here.

Plans and program for the Delphos Chautauqua have been arranged and will be held here during the week of August 2. Talent is being furnished by the Coit-Alber Co.

SALVATION ARMY IN LEGAL BATTLE WITH RIVAL ORDER
TOLEDO.—The Salvation Army has applied for an injunction against John Graham, former member, to prohibit him and those associated with him from using uniforms and equipment similar to that used by the Salvation Army, in religious work. Graham has organized a movement under the name of the World's Evangelical Faith Association, and is said to have adopted the uniform worn by the Salvationists.

"Lima's Busy Store"

OPEN LETTERS

To City Solicitor Carling
DEAR ED: I have been informed that my city has been forced to stand considerable expense needlessly because someone blundered in the matter of checking up petitions for street improvements. You will be doing a big service by insisting that all petitions be thoroughly investigated before money is spent in advertising and other preliminaries.
LIMA BEANE.

To Ohio Electric Officials
GENTLEMEN: Your tracks on Wayne-st are getting rougher every day. I'm afraid your cars will be unable to keep the rails much longer unless the joints are oiled up. This is just as a matter of information.
LIMA BEANE.

To Councilmen Rohn and Jones
GENTLEMEN: You are opposed, I am informed, to wasting money for the prosecution of hobbles in connection with the appointment of policemen for my city. I am for service at all times. If we haven't enough police officers, the department should be recruited, but if additions are proposed for inconsequential reasons, then it becomes a waste. Allow me to congratulate you on your stand in this matter.
LIMA BEANE.

To Married Persons
MY FRIENDS: It is most gratifying to note that the number of divorces in Allen-co is below that for the same period a year ago. Divorce is bad business at the best, altho I understand that it is necessary at times. The things I would have you remember is that marriage is not to be looked upon as a beau knot and untied at will.
LIMA BEANE.

To Householders
THIS is pretty warm weather to be talking about buying coal, but I have a hunch and I'm passing it on to you. Coal will not be cheaper in the fall. There are several reasons for this, and there undoubtedly will be a shortage of fuel unless a great number of you buy during the summer. It is certain that it will be impossible for the mines to meet the demand if everyone waits until the snow begins to fly. It is worth your while to think this matter over with a view to filling the bins soon.
LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Boy Scouts
DEAR BOYS: I am pleased that you are being afforded an opportunity to enjoy an outing at Girly's Island, historic ground in the Maumee river, near Defiance. I trust that you will profit as a result of the outing and that your interest in scoutcraft will be broadened and made more lasting.
The men who are giving their time in supervising your camping experience deserve your appreciation in generous measure.
LIMA BEANE.

To Resort Bathers
FRIENDS: At this season hundreds and thousands of persons are seeking recreation at summer resorts. Reports are coming in from all over the state that the water is taking a big death toll this year. Cramps, in many cases, are responsible. Please be careful when bathing.
LIMA BEANE.

To Smokers
BOYS: I have heard you speak in very certain terms concerning the reformers who would take away your cigarettes. You fellows about the public square, I am told, regard such a proposal as a great inroad upon your personal liberty than the taking away of your beer.
The sterner sex of New York, reports say, is giving up the "pills" because women are using them more than ever. They say that makes the cigaret too effeminate and are taking up the cigar. Adoption of this frame of mind will make the loss, if it comes, easier to bear. I believe, however, the people of this great country have about all the prohibition they care to undertake.
LIMA BEANE.

To Civic Clubs
MY FRIENDS: Summer is drawing to a close. The cool days of autumn are near at hand and ere long the rigors of winter will again be here. Now is the time to plan for fall and winter activities. There are many things to be done for Lima that should not longer be delayed.
Why not begin now on a program of activity, so that there will be no delay when fall meetings are resumed?
LIMA BEANE.

To Auto Drivers
FRIENDS: I wish you would exercise more care and caution about approaching and crossing railroad tracks. Your recklessness almost causes case of heart failure among my citizens who witness your disregard of all rules of safety in racing to cross tracks in front of approaching trains.
Stop it, before you and others with you are killed.
LIMA BEANE.

A BALL game is never over until the last man is out. Neither is a street repaired until the last shovel of material has been applied.
WOMEN have scored another point against the men who criticize their mode of dress. Vital statistics show they live longer than men.
WE should not let the government get ahead of us. If we cancel our foreign loans, why not make a clean-sweep of it and cancel everybody's at home too?
A NEW YORK woman, suing for divorce, says she was watched by 19 servants, which proves that servants are a nuisance. They are either busy watching you or you are busy watching them.

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:
There's the old joke about woman talking. Yet the Congressional Record shows that members uttered 158,000 words in one week.
"I simply cannot get to sleep without drinking a bottle of ale," says a man at our club. I do not see how he has been able to get any sleep at all for the last six months, unless he is worth millions. Has he ever tried drinking hot milk?
"We watched a chap take a drink of 'bootleg' a few days ago and he grumbled something about personal liberty. His hand trembled so that he could hardly hold the glass. This liberty stuff is fine if you know how to use it.
A newly appointed judge had a "bootlegger" brought into his court and he was in doubt as to how much he should give him. He telephoned to one of his older colleagues and the following conversation took place:
"How much do you think I ought to give him?" asked the young judge.
"Not more than $2 a quart, and got a couple of bottles for me," said the old judge.

PATIENT CONSTANCY OF CONVICT'S SWEET-HEART IS ABOUT TO BE REWARDED.
Chicago, Today.—Mario Tamborno has gone to the penitentiary at Joliet on visiting day every week for four years to cheer her sweetheart. Whenever the neighbors saw her pass with a bunch of flowers, or a box filled with home-made pies and good things to eat they shook their heads sadly.
"It's a pity, so it is," they mourned, "for a fine girl like Marie to throw herself away on that convict. She could have her pick of a dozen steady lads. She'd better grab one while she's young and pretty. She'll be a faded old woman when Joe Bousk gets out of prison. He'll stay behind bars for ten years yet."
Joseph R. Bousk is serving a sentence of fourteen years for murder. Mario Tamborno was his sweetheart when he killed Policeman Bruno Fredericks at a dance in Rot's hall near the Chicago Commons in 1916. She had gone to the dance with him. She went to the police station with him after the shooting. She sat outside his cell every day until his trial. Then she was in court every day. When the clerk read the verdict, "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty," a young woman in the crowd faint ed. That was Marie.

Visits Her Sweetheart Weekly for Four Years.
Four long years Bousk has been in Joliet. For three years he has been an honor prisoner. And all the while Marie has hovered over him like a guardian angel. Her weekly visits have been the only bright spots in his life. Many a time the convict has marveled at her constancy. He has advised her to forget him. He has urged her to run, he tells her; why should she allow him to ruin her, too? He urges her to marry some good man "on the outside." Marie answers always, "I love you, Joe." That's her only answer. It answers everything.

Bousk's mother died recently. Through Marie's intercession State Representative Conlon obtained from Governor Small a parole for Bousk to attend the funeral. After the obsequies Bousk reported to Conlon for the trip back to Joliet.
"Enjoy yourself for a few days while you're got the chance," said the genial Conlon. "Show your girl a good time."
Bousk spent five days in Marie's company. They took auto rides. They swam at the beaches. They strolled in the parks. They attended the movies. They crowded some sort of pleasure into every minute. Then Bousk reported again to Conlon.
"Go back to Joliet by yourself," said Conlon. "A man as honorable as you are doesn't need a guard."
Bousk went back to prison alone. Now a vigorous effort is being made to get him out. Legislator Conlon is behind it. And back of Conlon is Marie. Judge McKinley, who presided at Bousk's trial, has asked the board of pardons to grant Bousk a full pardon. The board, it is reported, will grant the convict his freedom before the summer is over.

"Then we'll be married," says Mario Tamborno. "I'll be waiting for him at the prison doors and we'll go straight to a minister's. I've waited four years I'd wait fifty if necessary. Let these foolish neighbors watch their heads. I love Joe Bousk and I will always love him. He is a convict, but he is a man I will be the happiest woman in the world when I am his wife."

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE THING ACCOMPLISHED
If you would know the depth of satisfaction Or strive to feel a sense of proper pride, You must be watchful of your every action. And till the task be done not turn aside.
The humble be your duty and your station, Fill it with credit, not with sham or bluff. Give it your best and spurn the explanation That poor endeavor may be good enough.
Seek not in words of praise from men who flatter For true contentment—it is never there.
Be your own judge and let the thoughtless chatter, You know your work and is it false or fair.
Remember this, and be no vain regretter, In little things man meets his sternest test; Do not content with work that you could better. The humblest task's deserving of your best.
You need not fear the future. Men shall find you, No matter where you toil or where you dwell. If every time you leave a task behind you, You know yourself that you have done it well.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS
After her speech Cherry vouchsafed no further information concerning her plans to the guests gathered on the veranda, although she did manage to take the young enthusiast who had applauded her so vigorously to one side and tell her in a sketchy way just what she hoped to do.
Mrs. Wilders, a young woman of about twenty-three or thereabouts, who had been married some three years, was most eager to hear all that Cherry had to say on the subject of independence for wives.
"It's just wonderful to have someone like you walk in and wake us up, Mrs. Randall," she whispered. "You don't know how lonely and restless I've been here since I was married, and Horace never can understand me at all. I think I should be perfectly satisfied just to be his wife. And yet all day long I sit and wonder and wonder. My house is tiny and we have no children. It's been dreadful at times."
"Come right along then and be my assistant over at Hamlen's then, Mrs. Wilder, if that's how you feel about things. I can use you, I know. And I'll talk to your husband and myself if you are afraid to," she finished.
"You angel," said Mrs. Wilder, admiringly. "I know he won't let me. But it will be worth while to hear what he has to say on the subject after all. He must let me, thought," she went on, "for if he doesn't I declare I'll run away or do something else foolish. That's how I've felt for ever and ever so long. There was tragedy in every inflection of her voice as she spoke. Cherry did her best to entertain the circle for the rest of the morning. She could feel the suppressed excitement that her announcement had caused in their peaceful midst and almost felt the desire on the women's part to get away and discuss her and her revolutionary ideas among themselves.
"How they will tear me to pieces," she reflected as she caught a hostile glance from a member's eyes now and then.
After all these women were the comfortable people. Dully satisfied with their lots and resentful of any new ideas in their midst. Poor Mrs. Wilders, she must have suffered living in their midst for three years—and suppressed constantly.
Fortunately Mrs. Randall, Sr., had gone to town for the morning and Cherry was spared any meeting between her and the gossip circle.
At about 11:30 she served some food and tea and sandwiches and then after very warm greetings and much advice about the writing of her criticism of "Ham Street," the Ladies' Literary Circle departed, talking volubly all the way down to the garden gate.
Cherry, overcome by the morning's exertions, sank back happily into her chair and lost herself in day dreams until her husband's step on the gravel brought her back to a world of stern realities with a start.
"Well, lady-bird, dreaming about how to be a good little wife to your Ned?" he questioned, laughingly, as he kissed her on the lips.
"Just about, and in my own little way," answered his wife enigmatically.
(To be continued.)

Don't Be Ba'd

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous.
If your hair is thinning out, don't wait another day, out go to one of Thompson's 3 Drug Stores and get a bottle of Parisian sage, the truly efficient hair grower.
Don't say: "It's the same old story; I've heard it before," but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parisian sage to stop falling hair and stimulate a new growth, banish all dandruff and almost instantly stop scalp itch, or money back.
Parisian sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate the hair roots. It's a time favorite with discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft and lustrous, and appear twice as abundant.
Parisian sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at all drug stores.—Adv.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.
Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.
Simply get an ounce of Othline—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othline as this strength is sold under guarantee or money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.
THE ORDEALS OF A VACATION
Poison ivy has three separate leaves on one stem, whereas a common harmless shrub often contains five leaves on one stem. Poison ivy has smooth whitish fruits resembling mistletoe berries, somewhat less than one-half inch in diameter and containing a single seed. Remember that the poison ivy has three separate leaves on the stem, and not a three-pointed leaf. The leaves are usually indented or notched, often more so on one side.
The itching or burning of the skin begins at any time from a few hours to four or five days after exposure to the plant. Were it not for the great weakness of bathing the irritation would probably be confined to the face and hands or other ordinarily exposed portions of the body; but the average vacationist takes some kind of bath and spreads the inflammation over the rest of the body; or he spreads the poison around with his hands, rubbing or scratching himself. The inflammation may amount to nothing more than a redness and swelling, tho generally the skin becomes blistered.
Best first aid for poison ivy. Have been exposed is one known to have been exposed is very many times with soapy water, freshly prepared for each rinsing. Or immediate lathering of the exposed skin, leaving the soap on the skin for hours. If you know you are going to be exposed, smearing the face and hands with lather or with vaseline is an excellent protection.
An excellent dressing for ivy poisoning consists of large compresses of muslin or gauze kept constantly wet with soapy water, or with a solution of a handful of saleratus in a basin of water. These alkalis tend to neutralize the acid irritant of poison ivy. If blisters appear they should be carefully oiled by puncture at the lower border with a flamed or soaped needle thru a spot of skin touched first with tincture of iodine, and the fluid carefully pressed out and absorbed with cotton or a clean towel and carefully kept from further contact with the skin. When the inflammation is no longer increasing, the inflammation may be dressed with plain zinc ointment. This lotion is good to relieve the itching and burning in the earlier stages of ivy poisoning.
Powdered calamine ..... 2 drams
Zinc oxide ..... 2 drams
Glycerin ..... 1-2 ounce (half ounce)
Lime water ..... 2 ounces
Rose water ..... 4 ounces
Phenol ..... 1-2 dram (half dram)
Shake well, and apply by patting with the fingers, as often as desired.
Persons susceptible to ivy poisoning, or suffering with prolonged skin trouble following ivy poisoning, may immunize themselves by taking the following internally, beginning with one drop after each meal, in half a glassful of water, and increasing by a drop each successive dose, until 21 drops are taken at the end of the week, then a teaspoonful once a day for three weeks, and occasionally a teaspoonful throughout the season.

TOM MIX CAVORTS GOOD ACTION IN "ROUNDUP"

ONE evening of delightful entertainment furnished, together with a comfortable seat and a more comfortable atmosphere. That's a summary of activities of Thursday night in a visit to the Sigma theatre to watch Tom Mix cavort thru his real action picture, "The Big Town Round-up."

And since the picture is to be exhibited at the Sigma Friday and Saturday, we have the much desired opportunity of advising you to see the picture if you haven't as yet.

It's a comedy of action and Tom Mix is a guarantee of the latter. The picture opens in a police station and winds up with a "horseless bug," bearing the bride and groom, rolling backwards over the roughest country in the west. In between, the action is none the less strenuous.

Tom Mix is a rival of Douglass Fairbanks when it comes to snappy action and fights. Mix has a lot of 'em in this picture. It's bound to keep you interested from start to finish.

It's a story of romance, the most imaginative kind of romance with the hero the super kind couple of times, with the rival a rival who is finally outwitted and with "another woman" who is the sweetest, demurest little thing imaginable. There seems to be but one fault with the picture—Ora Carew, who plays opposite Tom Mix. "We didn't quite like her acting, or her looks, to be frank, but the lead's acting so over-shadows hers that you can excuse the error on the part of the directors in casting her for the part."

"MARY'S ATTIC" MOVES ON—A RELIEF.

"Up in Mary's Attic" has finally one piece bathing suits and to romp left town. Ordinarily we hate to deliberately knock a picture, but when a fairly good plot is murdered (we're harsh) in the way the plot of that picture was, we can't help but make a few remarks.

Apparently the picture was filmed and produced with the eyes of the director on the cash box in ticket booth of the movies houses where the picture was to be shown. Scenic effects ordinarily entirely foreign to conditions surrounding such a plot were introduced into the picture—we believe, solely for the purpose of attracting the she's and he's around this country of ours who think more of form than beauty.

Imagine a girl's school where the young lady's are encouraged to wear

PHOTOPLAYS ARE GETTING BETTER.

The recent influx of higher grade pictures into the photoplay houses of this country is speaking well for the producers, and better for the movie going public.

The producers must produce that which the public wants, and the public is showing its desires by patronizing those theaters with the best pictures.

Sometimes one goes to the movies for pure entertainment. We have many and good films for that purpose. But other times, the fans go to the movie houses to see life, to learn a little history and perhaps a lesson or two from a picture.

Take pictures like "Deception" and "Passion," both based on historical facts. Their presentation was perfect even tho the historical facts were a little distorted. Details of atmosphere were of such realism that one viewing the picture was given an actual insight into the mode of life of historical characters, even if the facts were a little distorted.

Then look at "Way Down East" and "Dream Street" also perfect in details. There we have pictures with morals, with real ideas at their bottoms. It's a real treat for the movie fan to witness such productions and get the message that the director is trying to put across.

The claim that movies are an educating influence will soon be extended out to its fullest extent. "We urge only that in historical pictures, the directors stick a little closer to facts. More power to 'em."

MOVIE SECRETS ARE REVEALED

Q—Do you know how many pictures you see on the screen per minute?

A—It is hard to realize that every time the clock ticks you are watching a motion picture you have seen 16 separate flashes before your eyes. In 2 hours you will have seen 115,200 individual pictures. The pictures are flashed on the screen so rapidly that the eye is not able to detect the fact that what you are actually seeing is a series of individual pictures with a very short pause between each one when the screen is absolutely blank.

Q—How old is Carol Dempster and where was she born?

A—Carol was born in California 18 years ago. She weighs 100 pounds and is five feet three inches tall. She studied dancing under Ruth St. Denis and began her public career as one of the Denishawn dancers.

Society News

In compliment to Mrs. Harold Seymour, (Martha Andrews,) New York City, Miss Eloise Cunningham, S. Collett st., entertained with a most attractive affair at her home, Friday afternoon.

The afternoon was enjoyed informally and later a dainty repast was served by a group of young Misses including Misses Blanche Rebecca Andrews, Martha Altschul, Elizabeth Douglass, Mary Alta Douglass and Frances Lou Cunningham. The dining room was fragrant with pretty blossoms. Old fashioned garden flowers graced the center of the table while candles, tied with tulle, in crystal holders added a pleasing note to the refreshment hour.

Miss Cunningham's guests included Misses Betty Laughlin, Mary Parmenter, Dorothy Collins, Margaret Graham, Nellie Higley, Helen Basinger, Bess Sharpley, Mary K. Roby, Martha Roby, Margaret Gregg, Josephine Garretton, Catherine Jones, Helen Hunter, Dorothy Hunter, Magdalena Stolzenbach, Lura Mae Gallaspie, Clara Bell, Jennette Stolzenbach, Ruth Wells, Mildred Carr, Charlotte Stebbins, Dorothy Wheeler, Helen King, Adigait Sullivan, Pauline Weimer, Margaret McKinley, Rosemary Christen, Frances Townsend, Mildred Lynch, Margaret Stolzenbach, Dorothy Leamon, Columbus Serelda Wood, Mary Roberts, Sara Laughlin, Hope Hollister, Janet White, Elizabeth Moulton, Donna Shappell, Dorothy Schell, Gertrude Rose, Catherine Galyon, Lillian Bell, Dorothy Daniels, Montpelier, Indiana, Catherine Yank, Anna Marie, Helen Fox, Iona Baldwin, Helen Seaton, Ruth Emory, Kenneth Park, Mr.

Mrs. Fred J. Williams and Misses Lena Smith and Amber McGreevey, received a group of guests at an enjoyable gathering at the Williams home on W. Market-st., Thursday. A most interesting feature of the evening after which bridge was enjoyed. At the conclusion of play, with Miss Irene Walker holding high score, the guests were invited into the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. Garden flowers adorned each of the small tables and at the center of each was a miniature figure, replica of a bride, to which was attached a card bearing the initials F. J. to J. F., thus cleverly announcing the engagement of Miss Florence Luttrell to John Fix. The marriage will take place in August.

Guests for the evening included: Misses Grace Peltier, Nell Murray, Ella Pfeiffer, Clara McPherson, Helen Graham, Ruth Pugh, Helen Funk, Florence McGreevey, Maude Vermillion, Hazel Naylor, Margaret Daley, Esther Krister, Vera Naylor, Irving Walker, Toledo, Florence Luttrell, Mrs. Clair Riley, Mrs. Harry S. Complimenting Miss Genevieve Barr, who will leave soon for her future home in Pittsburgh, Pa., Miss Meredith Shifferly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shifferly, S. Collett-st., will entertain Friday evening.

PAPER SUIT FOR BATHING LATEST FAD FOR BEACHES

Miss Flossy Florence in her paper bathing suit.

Paper clothes have been talked about for some time, but the dainty miss above is the first person to try a paper bathing suit. She says it stands the water well, being rendered waterproof. And the cost? Just $1.50, says Miss Florence.

Honoring Miss Helen Schaad, Marton; Miss Louise Bissman, Mansfield, and Miss Marjorie Faulkner, Bucyrus, Miss Mary Roberts will entertain about 200 guests with a dancing party at the Shawnee Country club, Wednesday evening.

SATURDAY
Junior Light Bearers of Market-st. Presbyterian church to entertain with a picnic at City Park.

A number of employees of the Boston station enjoyed their annual outing in the form of a picnic at Meadough's Park, Thursday. Interesting entertainments were featured before the picnic and dancing followed. Meyer Mittenthal, manager of the store was the guest of honor. Those present included Miss Welly, Miss Winslow, Missa Kruse, Miss Markley, Miss McKint, Miss Baber, Mesdames Smith, Eversole, Blair, James Heffer, Hams, Hallinger, Hall, Swaney, Overholt and daughter, Leopold, Ewing and daughter, Hollingworth, Sinclair, Boyer, Mr. Mittenthal and Mr. Klein.

Miss Mary Shriver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shriver, W. Springfield, and Arthur Kinney, Newark, were united in marriage, Thursday morning at the Trinity church in Dayton, the Rev. Foster officiating. The bride was attractively attired in a midnight blue tulle suit and wore a small black hat. Her corsage was of sweet peas and roses. After a short wedding trip, Mr. Kinney and his bride will go to Newark where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Dan Elvidge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Miss Bernice Guss and Carl Groff motored to Kalamazoo, Ind., to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Kratzer.

Miss Dorothy Leamon, Columbus, arrived in this city Friday to be the guest of Miss Mildred Lynch, S. Collett-st.

WOMAN, THOUGHT SUICIDE, RETURNS HOME AS POLICE MAKE SEARCH FOR BODY

While police were searching for Mrs. Vivian Edgerton, 20, 1203 E. High-st., she returned home Thursday, according to reports made to police late Thursday afternoon. Up to that time, police contemplated the advisability of dragging Ottawa river, near the Metcalf bridge, in an effort to ascertain whether the woman had committed suicide.

A strange woman was seen near the bridge, Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock. She was later seen at a point further down the stream. Police, upon receipt of this information, were under the impression that the woman was considering taking her own life.

Motocycle Glover visited the spot where the woman was seen, but found nothing. Police, Thursday, were unable to say whether or not it was Mrs. Edgerton whom residents had seen near the Metcalf-st bridge.

HARVEST REVEALS SHORT WHEAT YIELD IN OHIO

COLUMBUS — Threshing is about half done in Ohio and the average quality of wheat and oats is from 75 to 80 per cent normal, according to reports received by C. J. West, state agricultural statistician.

The reports indicate that many fields of wheat are yielding not more than five to six bushels to the acre, although some are yielding as much as twenty bushels. Because of inferior quality and low yields, some farmers are reported to be letting their oats stand without cutting.

Dry weather has seriously affected corn, although the southeastern portion of the state reports ample rainfall. Northwestern counties reported the appearance of chinch bugs.

FALL SPORTS FAD

Great splashes of color in plaids, checks and stripes promise to be quite the mode this fall, especially for rough, out-of-doors and sports occasions. The new fall sports costumes may be rough tweed or jersey suits, or they may be made up of a rough plaid skirt, not necessarily pleated for a change, and a swagger coat or sweater.

What could be smarter than this costume pictured here with its fringed plaid skirt and its sweater with a fringed scarf effect in the front. The skirt is red and black and white. The sweater is a warm red with a knitted hat to match. Black and white shoes complete the outfit.

SEWER WORK FORCES FIRE APPARATUS TO BE PARKED IN STREET

Fire fighting apparatus at Central station is parked outside the building these days. And it will be until contractors working on the sewer in front of the station get it completed. The center of highest is torn up, and the trench digging machine is working. Because of this the rigs would be unable to get into the street, were they parked inside the building.

Chief Mack's car and the combination truck are parked on High-st while the aerial truck is at the rear of the house. The steamer is occupying the patrol room facing Central-st. Chief Mack expects the street to be torn up several days, he said Friday.

FEARS LOSING HER HUSBAND

Has Not the Faculty of Keeping Herself or Home Attractive
Advice Given Young Girl on the Use of Powder and Perfume

Dear Miss Smart:
I feel that I am not as attractive to my husband as I used to be. I am sure he is attracted to me as before. He seems to want to go away from home evenings.

and does not seem to hold the great interest for it which he used to. What do you think is the matter with him? What shall I do to make my home more attractive?
MRS. JONES

I AM afraid that you are simply working yourself into a state of nervousness over something which amounts to nothing. No doubt both yourself and your home are just as attractive and delightful to your husband but he probably has become engrossed with business and other serious problems, in which the people of today are enveloped—especially those hundreds and hundreds who are kept very busy trying to meet living costs. Perhaps your husband has become a little thoughtless and forgets that all women like to be admired and to be commended for their efforts and worthy traits.

You ask how you can make your home attractive to your husband. To be attractive and enticing it should have a spirit of coziness and restfulness prevailing about it. Do not make your home a place of care and drudgery to which you must devote all your time and efforts, leaving no time to fulfill your obligations as your husband's companion and helpmate.

If you have within your home a congenial comradeship, love, sympathy understanding and a mutual interest, you need have no fear that your home will ever prove unattractive or uninviting to your husband.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl 15 years old. My mother objects very seriously to my using of powder or perfume. I see no harm in it and feel that every girl needs a little powder, don't you?

JUNE
If your face requires powder I cannot see why your mother should object—especially if you use it sparingly. Remember, that even in face powder there is one correct powder for blondes and one for brunettes. Therefore, if your mother grants permission for you to put just a tiny bit on your nose to "take off the shine" try to secure your own shade of face powder and so avoid the unpleasant almost "whitewash" effect, so often seen.

As to perfume certainly there is no harm in this. Sometimes I read that it would be wise if some persons would make use of it. In using perfumes, however, do so sparingly and tactfully. Do not buy inexpensive perfumes which have a cheap scent. Perhaps even more preferable than perfume is a dainty sachet fastened on the body so that the warmth of the body brings out the fragrance.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am going to give a party soon and would be very glad if you would suggest a nice lunch. Being summer, I thought of ice cream and cake, but would like something else.

BETTY JEAN
You might serve sandwiches—make two or three varieties and cut them in small dainty pieces; olives, a salad, cakes and lemonade. Here is a delicious salad recipe. Take one package of gelatin, dissolve in one pint of boiling water, squeeze the juice of a lemon or grapefruit into it to make it tart. Set in a cool place. Take a cup of cabbage, a piece of green pepper, a few pimientos and four or five stalks of celery, and put thru a meat grinder. Stir into this the jelly when it begins to thicken. Let it stand in a cold place over night or for several hours, to harden.

Dear Miss Smart:
Would you kindly tell me which station is the more formal, "My dear Mrs. Smith" or "Dear Mrs. Smith"?

BILL
In the United States it is more formal to say "My dear Mrs. Smith," but in England the little pronoun is indicative of greater friendship. When writing to a woman who is a stranger, it is correct to inscribe her name and address first, followed by "Dear Madam." After the first letter the formal Madam may be dropped, if desired in favor of "My Dear Mrs. Smith."

Dear Miss Smart:
One of my neighbors is receiving attention from a single man. Her husband knows it and it is causing a great deal of trouble between them. Is there anything I might do to make her cease her foolishness and put a stop to this disgrace?

A NEIGHBOR
You are a very kind neighbor and I know you want to do what you think best to stop this "wrong," but no harm in this. Sometimes I read that it would be wise if some persons would make use of it. In using perfumes, however, do so sparingly and tactfully. Do not buy inexpensive perfumes which have a cheap scent. Perhaps even

CINDERELLA TODAY

By RUBY M. AYERS

It was a cold, gray day with a light powdering of snow. The wind seemed to leap at Pauline and cut thru her thin clothing like a knife, but she put her head down and went out into the road. "I thought you were never coming," said a voice at her side, and she looked up at Nicholas Stanford. "I've been waiting a quarter of an hour." Pauline started. "Is it a joke?" she asked hopelessly. "I heard you tell the housemaid last night that you were going to 'have the day off'." There was a note of laughter in his voice. "And I guessed where you were going—so I got ready, too, and here I am." "Captain Stanford, you can't come," she said firmly, though she avoided his eyes. "It's quite impossible for you to come." "Why?" "There was no shade of relenting in his voice. "It's not fair to Cynthia," he said in a low voice. "Oh, is that all?" he said dryly. "Well, Cynthia has gone to town this morning in reply to a wire which she received at breakfast. I don't know who the wire was from, but I happen to know that Langton is home on leave."

"Oh—how dreadful! How dreadful!" said Pauline, tragically. "Oh, no! Just the way of the world," he said, rather wearily. "I've been engaged a week now, and—illusions I may have had." "Nicholas looked years younger and happier as he and Pauline steamed slowly out of the station. "It's the next station," Pauline said presently. "I always walk it, but I'm glad we came by train; we shall have so much longer there." She looked out with sparkling eyes. "You're very fond of your sister," Stanford said. "I love her," Pauline answered fervently. "And then the train stopped and Pauline skipped out on the platform. "It's only a little way down the road," she told him. "That row of little red houses you can see—it's No. 10."

Her feet seemed to dance with her; in her eagerness the parcel of cakes flew out of her arm. Nicholas chuckled. "I knew you would do it sooner or later," he told her. "I've been waiting for it." They picked up the cakes and went on more soberly. They had reached No. 10 now, and the front door flew wide. Some one said "Pauline" in a voice which was certainly not a woman's voice, and Pauline said, "Guy, oh Guy!" and rushed forward. "Guy, this is Capt. Stanford—He's engaged to Cynthia, you know. He wanted to see Julia and the babies. Only you mustn't tell any one at home because it's a secret— they think he is in London, and so— oh, Julia!" Stanford found himself shaking hands with a sadder, more thoughtful edition of Pauline. "I am so pleased to see you," she said. "Won't you take off your coat? You must be tired. But, of course, you didn't walk all the way?" "We came by train," Stanford said. Guy Boulton helped him off with his coat and hung it up. Left together for a moment, the two men eyed one another with a sort of embarrassment. Guy was very much like Cynthia—too good looking for a man, was Stanford's first thought. "Jolly decent chap—too good for Cynthia," was the younger man's mental comment. "I didn't expect to see you," said Guy Boulton said. "Heard about you, of course, tho'."

The younger man laughed. "I'm the black sheep of my family," he explained lightly. "I dare say Cynthia told you." "Well, that's over," she said with a sigh. "And I do hope you haven't been too bored." "I've never enjoyed myself more," he said. Pauline went on a little way ahead and into the station; a cold, sleepy-looking youth was just extinguishing a wavering lamp on the platform. She asked him a sharp question. "When is the next train to Marley?" "There ain't no more trains to-night; there used to be one at 9:05, but it's took off since the war," Stanford had joined them now. "What's the matter?" he asked. Pauline turned a distressed face to him. "There are no more trains," she said. "The last one's gone." Stanford looked at the boy, who was watching them interestedly. "I'm quite willing to pay well if you can get us a trap or something," he said. The boy shook his head.

"I'm quite willing to pay well if you can get us a trap or something," he said. The boy shook his head.

"There's no trap," he answered, "only Farmer Smees's, and he went in to Marley this afternoon, and followed." "I mean I'm afraid that it will make you ill," she said with reluctant anger. "I know you hate having to take care of yourself, and not being able to do things! But surely it's worth while just for a little time if you know that in the end you'll be all right again!" He gave a short laugh. "Men are not inviolable out of the army now—days, unless they are such thorough crooks that there's not a dog's chance of their ever being any good again," he said. # LIMA SCOUTS HIKE TO WAPAKONETA

First Trip Made in Good Time—
Bootlegger Is Fined

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Scoutmaster Cleve Davis of the Boy Scout organization of this city was visited by Walter "Bud" Yingling and Darrel Grove, members of Troop Four, "Flying Eagle" patrol of Lima, who hiked to this city, a distance of 11 miles. They made the trip for scout awards. They left Lima at 4:30 a. m. and arrived here at 10 a. m., stopping once for rest of a couple of hours. They were the guests of Master George Heffner while here. The boys are required to draw a map of the country thru which they passed and write a story about the trip.

LeVorne Hutchinson, 49, near Wapakoneta, plead guilty to a charge of possessing and selling intoxicating liquor when arraigned before Mayor Newcomer Thursday and was fined $200 and costs. His farm was raided Wednesday night by local and Allen-co officers. They found still and a half-gallon of corn whiskey, together with other evidence.

Poultry and eggs of Anglaise-co are more valuable than hogs, according to a report made by County Agent Andrew. The former are worth $77.725 and the latter $77.030. There are approximately 297,223 chickens in the county.

Council authorized the service director to receive bids for laying of sidewalks along all of the city's land. After work is completed, private property owners will be ordered to construct walks wherever needed.

When an improvised platform on which he rested a ladder to make it reach to a certain place on a barn he was painting, collapsed, from Fleming, 26, was seriously injured. He suffered internal injuries.

Died: Miss Elizabeth Madigan, 61, Wapakoneta; gall stones. Benjamin F. Wagstaff, 87, New Hampshire, gangrene.

OHIO CITY MAY BE HEALTH CENTER

National Organization To Select Site For Experiment

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Either Newark or Mansfield may get the child health experiment or demonstration, which the national child health council proposes to make in some typical American city. There are four other cities being considered in addition to the two Ohio ones.

VISIT ROWLANDS

New $10,000 Victor Department
Complete Stock of Victor Records and Victrolas

The organization, with offices in Washington, is an affiliation of six children's welfare societies. It has set aside $200,000 for the purpose, which it proposes to spend in the course of five years. The object is to conserve the health from prenatal age to 16.

Nurses, physicians, surgeons, and the like are to be placed at the disposal of all families that need them for their children. The health council will pay all the expense the first two years, after which the city is to stand half of it and gradually increase the proportion, until at the end of five years, it will be paying all.

The council wants to try the experiment in a typical American city in the sense of size, character of population, industry, and the like. It began with a list of 64, and has eliminated all except the six.

EUROPE IS SCENE OF BIG DEALS

Many Huge Orders Signed On Foreign Soil

AMERICANS GET THEIR SHARE

Leaders Already Ready For Trip Across Ocean

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special)—When you read in the newspapers that Thos. W. Lamont, or Chas. M. Schwab, or Daniel Guggenheim, or Chas. H. Sabin or Edward L. Doherty, or Samuel M. Vauclain, or Owen D. Young, or Paul M. Warburg, or Robert Dollar, or A. C. Bedford, or James B. Duke, or F. C. Bedford, or Irving T. Bush, or Lew E. Pierson, or James Speyer, or John H. Patterson has "left for a trip to Europe," don't rush to the conclusion that pleasure is the only object in view.

Nearly every super-salesman in America occasionally finds it advisable to run across the Atlantic to put third some important deal.

As a matter of fact, some of the highest financial and business deals in recent years were accomplished by great financial and business leaders in this country who saw capitalistic "opportunity" at the other side of the ocean and hastened across to embrace it.

Especially the most momentous financial coup brought off in recent years was the winning of the fiscal agency in this country of the British government and her allies during the war. Henry P. Davison was the Morgan partner who spotted this unparalleled opportunity to book business calculated to yield millions of dollars in commissions to say nothing of international prestige. Davison didn't attempt to handle the deal from a desk at the corner of Wall and Broadway. He jumped on a fast boat, interviewed the proper British authorities and came back with the historic contract in his pocket. This contract, which entailed the spending and handling of many billions of dollars proved so lucrative that the Morgan partners do not now know what to do with their money.

Schwab likewise didn't book his gigantic war orders from the British government by staying at home. Earl Kitchener, who had just been installed as head of the war department, sent his friend Schwab a brief cable asking him if he could hurry to London. Within twenty-four hours Schwab was at sea. Special arrangements were made at the other side to rush the American ordnance builder to London, and Kitchener was waiting to receive him the moment he reached the war office. Kitchener, with his characteristic bluntness, told Schwab what the British were up against, outlined some of their most urgent needs and asked Schwab how far he could go in helping them out. Schwab's reply almost took Kitchener's breath away, so much was the head of the Bethlehem Steel prepared to do in a hurry. Prices were the last thing mentioned.

That was how perhaps the largest deal of its kind in history was carried out.

When the American Tobacco King, James B. Duke, wanted to become a dominant factor in the European tobacco industry, he didn't content himself with sitting in his New York office and handling things at long range. He betook himself to London, personally surveyed the whole situation, visited certain leading tobacco works, and in two or three weeks entangled himself so strongly that the other tobacco people found it expedient to seek peace. The upshot was that Duke became as powerful a factor in Europe as he was in the United States.

Sam Vauclain, the indefatigable head of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, finding that his European "prospects" hadn't the ready cash to pay for the locomotives they very badly needed, shot across the Atlantic, and by a series of deals saving of the old-fashioned barter, was able to arrange for payment for his orders.

RAILS LEAD RISE WHEAT PRICES ON IN STOCKS DOWN MOVE

Trading, However, Light and Professional—Close is Heavy

NEW YORK — Nominal losses ruled at the hesitant opening of today's stock market. Chesapeake and Ohio was the only exception, reacting 1 3/8 points. The placing of oil and leathers on the free list by the house of representatives failed to stimulate trading in those shares, most foreign oils displaying further heaviness. Motors, copper, and food specialties also eased. Steadiness was shown by Canadian Pacific, Rock Island and United States Rubber. Exchange on London was firm.

The market moved in a narrow rut until the second hour when buying of rails impelled short covering. Canadian Pacific rose 2 1/2 points and gains of 1 to 1 1/2 were made by Great Northern, Union Pacific and St. Paul. Steels and equipments also hardened, with Bethlehem as the only conspicuous laggard. American Woolen, Con. Products and some of the rubber shares rose substantially over yesterday's final prices. Tobacco were featured by Liggett and Myers at a gain of 6 1/2 points. Foreign exchange continued to recover and call money opened and renewed into next week at 5 1/2 per cent.

Trading in stocks today was light and professional. Free supplies of money at lower rates exerted no perceptible influence. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

The closing was heavy.

BOARD IS NAMED

Harding Picks Commission To Liquidate $211,000,000 Claims

WASHINGTON — (United Press)—President Harding today named a commission to liquidate $211,000,000 worth of claims against the Shipping Board as follows:

Captain Richard M. Watt, United States Navy.

Arthur Teitel, accountant.

O. P. Brown, of Washington, secretary.

JACK JOHNSON PARADE IS HELD BY NEW YORK NEGROES

NEW YORK — Jack Johnson arrived in New York today and was welcomed in Harlem with much ado by several thousand negroes. Two brass bands blared forth as the pugilist stepped from a train from Chicago.

A parade was immediately started up Lenox-ave. Johnson being accompanied by Sam McVey and Joe Jeannette, also pugilists. Johnson beamed in every direction. He wore a checkered suit of high nobility and his bald head glistened in the sunlight. A banquet followed the parade.

CALL MONEY

NEW YORK — Call money easier; high 5 1/2; low 5; ruling rate 5 1/2; closing bid 4 1/2; offered at 5; last loan 5; bank acceptances 6.

BANK CLEARINGS

Clearings Friday, $96,818,000. Clearings last Friday, $162,711,772. Clearings a year ago Friday, $125,911,39.

PRODUCE PRICES STEADY; PORK RANGES HIGHER IN MARKET; EGGS FALLING

Local markets were, on the whole, quite steady Friday. Wholesale produce was practically unchanged in price and as a result retail values remained at Thursday's levels.

Leaf lettuce is very scarce and even at the higher prices is very difficult to get. It is quoted at 30 cents a pound. The first end was seen Friday in the groceries and was selling at 30 cents a pound. Pineapples are again off the market. It is believed that there will be few pines for a while.

Butter was steady locally and cheese and meat and provision prices were unchanged. Should the price of wholesale pork keep increasing as it has recently higher retail prices for pork products will be seen very soon. Wheat and flour were firm, with very small sales by farmers.

Ohio eggs were off two cents in the Cleveland markets Friday. They were quoted at 30 and 31 cents a dozen. Western firsts were also lower, dropping from 29 to 28 cents a dozen.

Butter was higher. Prints were up a half cent to 45 and 48 1/2 cents. Fancy dairy was unchanged, however.

Potato prices were ranging higher. Southern No. 1 new were $3 a bushel compared with $4.25 and $4.75 Thursday.

WHEAT PRICES ON IN STOCKS DOWN MOVE

CHICAGO — Reports that Russia needed vast quantities of wheat had a bullish influence on the wheat market today. Doubts, however, that money could be found to pay for the required grain acted as a restraining factor. The chief demand came from a house with eastern connections. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-4 off to 1-2c advance, with September $1.26 to 1.27 and December $1.29 to 1.30 were followed by material gains all around.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1-8c higher, including September at 61 5/8 to 61 7/8, the market sagged a little but then scored a moderate general advance.

The Northwest was a good buyer of oats. Prices started unchanged to 3-8 to 1-2c higher, September 41-1/2 to 41 5/8, eased off somewhat and then made fair upturns for all deliveries.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

The wheat market closed nervous 1c to 1 1/2c net lower with September $1.25 to 1.26 1/4 and December $1.29 to 1.30 1/4.

The corn close was unsettled, 1-4c net lower to a like advance with September 61 3/4 to 61 7/8.

MUTT AND JEFF—THAT'S ALL YOU CAN EXPECT FROM ANY PILOT—

By BUD FISHER

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

A young scholar, taking his first

Lesson in natural history, had the experience of anatomical, the minute creatures too small to be seen by the naked eye, which are to be found in liquids, explained to him. After the lesson he was asked to tell what anatomical are.

"They are animals you can't see," he said.

"Well, that may do for an answer," said the teacher. "Now, tell me what you saw in the microscope."

"The hippopotamus, the gorilla, the whale..."

When their father died, Ike, Abe, and Benjamin found that he had left each of them $500. Benjamin decided to open a tailor shop; the others thought they would wait a bit and see how he got on.

As he did quite well, Abe took the shop two doors away, and thinking to profit by Benjamin's success, had it decorated in exactly the same style. Each bore the sign, "Mosenstein, the Pantom Tailor."

After a few months the cautious Ike decided that he, too, would become a tailor. He took the shop between those of his brothers and called it the same decorator.

"I suppose you want something striking and original?" said the decorator.

"Yes," said Ike. "I want a shop with a great big door. Over it you can write: 'Mosenstein, Tailor, MAIN ENTRANCE!'"

While all the fishermen in this section are telling of the "large ones which got away," Acting Police Sergeant Frank Kinzer comes thru with a story about a small one which didn't get away. Kinzer received a letter from Adam "Pinky" Clark, who is on a fishing expedition in Michigan.

Clark, in his letter, declares, he won the party booby prize when he hooked a four-ounce bass. Clark says he is undecided whether to bring the fish home, or use it as he would a minnow.
